MARRIAGE, DIVORCE, AND DISTRESS IN NORTHEAST BRAZIL
Black Women’s Perspectives on Love, Respect, and Kinship
Melanie A. Medeiros
"This ethnography draws us into the contested terrain of intimate relations and divorce in Northeast Brazil. Medeiros skilfully depicts the voices and experiences of rural, working-class women of African descent, helping us see how their lives are shaped both by their own strivings and by forces as diverse as telenovelas and ecotourism."

OTHERS’ MILK
The Potential of Exceptional Breastfeeding
Kristin J. Wilson
"Others’ Milk demonstrates how breastfeeding is a process, an identity, and a performance that is not simply about nourishing children, but one that reveals larger meanings of gender, sexuality, race, inequality—and the limiting ways we imagine bodies can and should be used."
—Jennifer Reich, author of Fixing Families: Parents, Power, and the Child Welfare System

THE PATAGONIAN SUBLIME
MARCOS NENDA
CHILDREN AS CAREGIVERS
The Global Fight against Tuberculosis and HIV
in the United States
Jean Hunleth
Medical anthropologist Jean Hunleth chronicles the experiences of children living with parents and guardians who are suffering from these infectious diseases and shows how their perspectives matter in the global debates about health care. Children as Caregivers examines how well intentioned practitioners fail to realize how children take on active caregiving roles when their guardians become seriously ill.
204 pp • 15 photos and drawings • 978-0-8135-8803-2 • paper • $34.95S

TRAFFICKED CHILDREN AND YOUTH IN THE UNITED STATES
Reimagining Survivors
Elzbieta Gozdzia
"This is a thoughtful and important book about victims of child trafficking. Its strengths lie in the juxtaposition of programmatic responses to trafficking with child survivors' own perceptions of their experiences and needs."
—Alicia Peters, University of New England
194 pp • 3 tables • 978-0-8135-6989-7 • paper • $27.95S

AMBIENT ENCOUNTERS
Childhood, Tourism, and Social Change in Banaras, India
Jenny Huberman
This ethnographic study brings together scholarship on the anthropology of childhood, tourism, consumption, and western visitors and locals in their community and explores how the children themselves experience their work and render it meaningful.
246 pp • 1 map • 978-0-8135-5406-8 • paper • $31.95S

LIVING CLASS IN URBAN INDIA
Sara Dickey
"This analysis builds on captivating stories of everyday life, connecting the capitalist forces we categorize as 'global' with the spaces, practices, and organizations that ground daily experience. It marks an important achievement."
—Mary Hancock, University of California
288 pp • 8 photos • 978-0-8135-8391-4 • paper • $29.95S

HUMANITARIAN AFTERSHOCKS IN HAITI
Mark Schuller
Schuller led an independent study of eight displaced-persons camps in Haiti, compiling more than 150 interviews ranging from Haitian front-line workers and camp directors to foreign humanitarians and many earthquake victims. The result is an insightful account of why the multi-billion-dollar aid response to the Haitian earthquake triggered a range of unintended consequences, rupturing social and cultural institutions and actually increasing violence, especially against women.

DEMANDING JUSTICE AND SECURITY
Indigenous Women and Legal Pluralities in Latin America
Rachel Sieder
“Demanding Justice and Security constitutes a milestone in the study of indigenous women’s organizing, understanding and engaging legal pluralities in Latin America. Drawing on rich fieldwork from Bolivia, Mexico, Colombia, Ecuador and Guatemala, the authors of this collaborative research-action experience have crafted an outstanding multi-sited ethnography of gender, violence, injustice and insecurity in these countries. This remarkable volume allows for a unique opportunity to consider structural violence and its comparative effects on the gendered body politic.”

CRITICAL ISSUES IN HEALTH AND MEDICINE
EATING TO LEARN, LEARNING TO EAT
The Origins of School Lunch in the United States
Andrew R. Ruis
Historian A. R. Ruis explores the origins of American school meal initiatives to explain why it has been so difficult to establish meal programs that satisfy the often competing interests of children, parents, schools, health authorities, politicians, and the food industry.
220 pp • 2 photos, 1 map, 2 tables • 978-0-8135-8407-2

STRUCTURAL INTIMACIES
Sexual Stories in the Black AIDS Epidemic
Sonja MacKenzie
Structural Intimacies brings together scholarship on the structural dimensions of the AIDS epidemic and the social construction of sexuality to address the continuing HIV epidemic in the Black population. It asserts that shifting forms of sexualities, structural intimacies, are emerging and presents a compelling argument: in an era of deepening medicalization of HIV/AIDS, public health must move beyond individual-level interventions to community-level health equity frames and policy changes.

CRITICAL CARIBBEAN STUDIES

BECOMING CREOLE
Nature and Race in Belize
Melissa A. Johnson
“Timely and timeless, Johnson’s elegant writing carries us into the Belizean forest, literally and metaphorically. Showing how culture and nature are mutually constitutive, this intimate work is by far the best portrayal of the complexities of race in Belize, and sheds new light on the entire Atlantic world.”
—Richard Wilk, distinguished professor emeritus, Indiana University
226 pp + 24 b&w images • 978-0-8135-9809-6 • paper • $34.95S

THE DOMINICAN RACIAL IMAGINARY
Surveying the Landscape of Race and Nation in Hispaniola
Milagros Ricourt
“A necessary book to rethink Dominican racial identities. Ricourt challenges the hegemonic national imaginary and brings forward alternative discourses and practices highlighting the presence of Dominican Black identities and culture.”
—José Iglesiohn, Brown University
224 pp + 9 photos, 2 figures, 2 maps, 8 tables 978-0-8135-8447-8 • paper • $27.95S

DISENCHANTED LIVES
Apostasy and Ex-Mormonism among the Latter-day Saints
E. Marshall Brooks
“An extremely frank, thoughtful, compelling, and analytically rich exploration of contemporary apostasy and religious defection within a Mormon context. Brooks’s Disenchanted Lives is excellent. Highly recommended.”
—Phill Zuckerman, author of Living the Secular Life
254 pp + 9 b&w photos • 978-0-8135-9218-3 • paper • $34.95S

THE INSECURE CITY
Space, Power, and Mobility in Beirut
Kristin V. Monroe
“Kristin Monroe has written a remarkable book about the violence of everyday life in Beirut and has developed a fresh approach to understanding the difficulties of living in this ‘wounded’ city.”

FAMILIES IN FOCUS

QUEER KINSHIP AND FAMILY CHANGE IN TAIWAN
Amy Brainer
“Brainer adds new insights about the ways that queer Asians, specifically Taiwanese, negotiate alternative sexualities and genders within a family context and how members of their families help in this negotiation.”
—Chong-suk Han, Middlebury College
194 pp • 978-0-8135-9760-7 • paper • $28.95S

RAISING THE RACE
Black Career Women Redefine Marriage, Motherhood, and Community
Riché J. Daniel Barnes
“Raising the Race is the first study to examine how black, married career women juggle their relationships with their extended and nuclear families, the expectations of the black community, and their desires to raise healthy, independent children. Barnes draws upon their diverse perspectives to propose policy initiatives that would improve the work and family lives of all Americans. 272 pp + 3 tables • 978-0-8135-6198-1 • paper • $27.95S

NARRATING LOVE AND VIOLENCE
Women Contesting Caste, Tribe, and State in Lahaul, India
Himika Bhattacharya
“A smart, elegantly written book, Narrating Love and Violence explores the complex lives of Lahauli women negotiating the intricacies of caste/tribe/state violence with fierce courage, humor, and deep love. Bhattacharya’s timely and original ethnography challenges conventional feminist understandings of gendered violence, enacting an inspiring praxis of solidarity and love.”
—Chandra Talpade Mohanty, author of Feminism Beyond Borders: Decolonizing Theory, Practicing Solidarity

EMBODYING THE PROBLEM
The Persuasive Power of the Teen Mother
Jenna Vinson
“This myth-busting work rejects stigmatizing statistics and narratives about young motherhood that depict the young pregnant or parenting body as always only a problem. Young and young-of-color mothers emerge as fierce advocates for themselves and their children. Vinson includes voices and visions from within to tell new stories and to reveal new needs and possibilities for reproductive justice.”
—Adela C. Licona, director of the Institute for LGBT Studies, University of Arizona
