THE AMERICAN CAMPUS

MOTHERING BY DEGREES
Single Mothers and the Pursuit of Postsecondary Education
Jillian M. Duquette-Watson

“Jillian Duquette-Watson casts an insightful eye on how determined single mothers navigate the obstacles of time, money, and a chilly campus climate as they seek to improve their family’s fortunes by pursuing a higher degree.”

—Kathleen Gerson, author of The Unfinished Revolution

FROM SINGLE TO SERIOUS
Relationships, Gender, and Sexuality on American Evangelical Campuses
Dana M. Malone

“In this carefully analytic description of the relationship culture on evangelical Protestant campuses, Malone painstakingly describes the dating—and sometimes mating—rituals that characterize this American subculture.”

—Mark Regnerus, author of Cheap Sex: The Male Formation of Men, Marriage, and Monogamy

GENDER, VIOLENCE, AND PEACE AND WAR
States of Complicity
Edited by Victoria Sanford, Katerina Stefanos and Cecilia M. Salvi

“This wide-ranging volume documents the complicity of states in gender violence, from state perpetration of strategic sexual violence in some conflict settings—in Greece, Guatemala, Iraq, among others—often neglected by states worldwide of women’s security and other basic needs in both war and peace. Essential reading for scholars and practitioners alike.”

—Elisabeth Jean Wood, Yale University

THE THINGS THAT FLY IN THE NIGHT
Female Vampires in Literature of the Circum-Caribbean and African Diaspora
Giselle Liza Anatol

“Encyclopedic in its scope and grand in its theoretical ambition, Professor Anatol’s study of the specters of Caribbean occult should be read by everyone interested in Afro-diasporic culture.”

—Natasha Barnes, Cultural Conundrums: Gender, Race, Nation, and the Making of Caribbean Cultural Politics

MY FAIR LADIES
Female Robots, Androids, and Other Artificial Eves
Julie Wosk

“Julie Wosk’s book expertly guides us through the cultural meanings of artificial females in myth, literature, movies, television, art, and photography, among other fields.”

—Susan Ostrov Weisser, The Glass Slipper

CONCEIVING CUBA
Reproduction, Women, and the State in the Post-Soviet Era
Eliana Fernandez

“Andaya reveals the complex entanglement of women’s reproductive choices, healthcare practices, and the state’s agenda to reshape gender ideologies. This rich ethnography will appeal to regional specialists, and to scholars of gender, reproduction, post-socialism, and social change.”

—Nadine Fernandez, Revolutionizing Romance: Interracial Couples in Contemporary Cuba

QUERYING CONSENT
Beyond Permission and Refusal
Jordana Greenblatt and Keja Valens

“Querying Consent gathers contributions that represent a diversity of perspectives on the multifaceted issue of consent. An intriguing anthology that challenges the reader to think further and into new directions.”

—Robin Bauer, author of Queer BDSM

NEVER DONE
A History of Women’s Work in Media Production
Erin Hill

“Hill offers a unique and exciting analysis of the largely unacknowledged work done by women in the film industry, providing a new history that shifts our understanding of old ones. Never Done will make a significant impact in the field.”

—Mary Desjardins, Recycled Stars: Female Film Stardom in the Age of Television and Video

DO BABIES MATTER?
Race, Gender, and Drugs in the Era of Mass Incarceration
Allison McKim

“A brilliant, nuanced, fascinating, and highly readable text ... her use of archival materials is impeccable and her filmic and historical analyses clearly display a nuanced understanding of her topic.”

—Publishers Weekly

MAPPING FEMINIST ANTHROPOLOGY IN THE TWENTY-FIRST CENTURY
Edited by Ellen Lewin and Leni M. Silverstein

Mapping Feminist Anthropology in the Twenty-First Century provides an historical and theoretical overview of feminist anthropology’s origins, the transformation it has undergone, and the vital contributions it continues to make to cutting-edge scholarship. Chronicling the impact feminist anthropologists have made on a wide range of academic fields, from science and technology studies to queer theory, it also reveals the important role they have played in global campaigns against human rights abuses, domestic violence, and environmental degradation.

MODERN SPANISH WOMEN AS AGENTS OF CHANGE
Essays in Honor of Maryellen Bieder
Edited by Jennifer Smith

“This book is a beautiful tribute to Maryellen Bieder, an important and significant scholar of nineteenth- and twentieth-century Spanish narrative by women. The essays in this book by scholars and writers of different nationalities who are also highly esteemed in the same and other areas—expand and continue Bieder’s research to new horizons. Modern Spanish Women as Agents of Change is a very important contribution to the field: it continues current research, embarks on new areas of investigation, and employs distinct or innovative theoretical ideas.”

CRITICAL ISSUES IN SPORTS & SOCIETY

KICKING CENTER
Gender and the Selling of Women's Professional Soccer
Rachel Allison

“This Kicking Center is an engaging, well-written book. Allison offers just the right mix of academic findings and pop-culture references and provocations. This original work raises important questions and then answers them with vim, precision, and rigour.”
—Jules Boykoff, author of Activism and the Olympics: Dissent at the Games in Vancouver and London

WHEN WOMEN RULE
The Court, Gender, Race, and Japanese American Basketball
Nicole Wilms

“This book challenges hyper-heteronormatized readings of sport through spectacular athletes and everyday sporting cultures.”
—Stanley Thangaraj, author of Desi Hoop Dreams

NO SLAM DUNK
Gender, Sport and the Unevenness of Social Change
Cheryl Cooky and Michael A. Messner

No Slam Dunk provides important theoretical and empirical insights into the contemporary world of sports to help explain the unevenness of social change and how, despite significant progress, gender equality in sports has been “No Slam Dunk.”

EMBODYING THE PROBLEM
The Persuasive Power of the Teen Mother
Jenna Vinson

“This myth-busting work rejects stigmatizing statistics and narratives about young motherhood that depict the young pregnant and parenting body as always only a problem. Young and young-of-color mothers emerge as fierce advocates for themselves and their children.”
—Adela C. Licona, University of Arizona

NARRATING LOVE AND VIOLENCE
Women Contesting Caste, Tribe, and State in Lahaul, India
Himika Bhattacharya

“Narrating Love and Violence explores the complex lives of Lahauli women negotiating the intricacies of caste/tribe/state violence and challenges conventional feminist understandings of gendered violence.”
—Chanda Talpade Mohanty, author of Feminism Beyond Borders: Decolonizing Theory, Practicing Solidarity

CRITICAL ISSUES IN HEALTH AND MEDICINE

LADY LUSHES
Gender, Alcoholism, and Medicine in Modern America
Michelle L. McClellan

In Lady Lushes, medical historian Michelle L. McClellan traces the story of the female alcoholic from the late-nineteenth through the twentieth century. She draws on a range of sources—including medical literature, archival materials, popular media, and autobiographical writings of alcoholic women—to demonstrate the persistence of the belief that alcohol use is antithetical to an idealized feminine role.

LIBERATING HOLLYWOOD
Women Directors and the Feminist Reform of 1970s American Cinema
Maya Montañez Smukler

“In Liberating Hollywood, Maya Montanez Smukler is remarkably attuned to the industrial as well as sociopolitical histories that made such a new women’s cinema and such a suddenly liberated Hollywood possible.”

WATCHING OUR WEIGHTS
The Contradictions of Televising Fatness in the “Obesity Epidemic”
Melissa Zimdars

“Very well-written and enjoyable to read, Watching Our Weights evaluates the various ways that fatness is portrayed on television. It will make an important contribution to popular culture studies in general and television studies specifically.”
—Esther Rothblum, coeditor of The Fat Studies Reader

REPRODUCTIVE JUSTICE
The Politics of Health Care for Native American Women
Barbara Gurr

“Gurr does not present Native women as theorists about these policies. She looks to the promising ways forward offered by Native reproductive justice organizers, while not romanticizing the impact this work has had on communities overall.”
—Women’s Review of Books

HOME SAFE HOME
Housing Solutions for Survivors of Intimate Partner Violence
Hilary Botein and Andrea Hetling

“Botein and Hetling provide a thorough and detailed assessment of our housing needs of victims of interpersonal violence.”
—Leslie Reagan, University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign
