MEDICAL ANTHROPOLOGY

FAULT LINES OF CARE: Gender, HIV, and Global Health in Bolivia Carina Heckert
“Fault Lines of Care is a remarkable book of the type many of us strive for: a finely grained, moving ethnography that articulates the nature of the broad interactions among individual, community, state-level, and global dynamics in the domain of international HIV/AIDS care. Heckert is a lucid, evocative writer and framer; I found the book hard to put down.”
—Carole H. Browner, coauthor of Neurogenetic Diagnoses, the Power of Hope, and the Limits of Today’s Medicine
