 Website Bibliography
 rev. 7-15-2022

This bibliography lists first some general materials, and then follows the chapters in the book. It contains materials used to write the book, as well as others that were not consulted (some due to Covid's closing of libraries). The long list provided is in the hope that the cited works will be useful to researchers who want to go further; teachers and their students working on the Revolution in New Jersey and elsewhere; and those curious about a particular person, event, or topic. Please note that new books and articles continue to appear, and digital copies of documents and older materials are increasingly available.
